

CONSTITUTION DAY

Friday, September 17, 2021

DEMOCRACY IN THE AGE OF SOCIAL MEDIA: CIVIC DISCOURSE, ETHICS, AND THE FIRST AMENDMENT

MODERATOR

Deb Grasham, Partner at the law firm of Givens Pursley in Boise

PANELISTS

Dr. Seth Ashley, Professor of Journalism and Media Studies in the Department of Communication at Boise State University

Benjamin Plener Cover, Associate Professor of Law at the University of Idaho College of Law

Dr. Stelios Panageotou, Assistant Professor of Political Economy, College of Idaho

Betsy Russell, Boise Bureau Chief, Idaho Press

ABOUT THE EVENT

Mark Twain once said that a lie can travel halfway around the world while the truth is still putting on its shoes. With the widespread use of social media, the pace misinformation can spread is even faster, putting a strain on many of our institutions and making civic discourse increasingly difficult.

Join the Idaho Law Foundation and Attorneys for Civic Education in person or virtually in celebration of Constitution Day as they welcome distinguished attorneys, professors, and journalists for an in-depth discussion on our Constitution and First Amendment rights.

This event is open to Idaho attorneys, teachers, students, and members of the public.

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW

Friday, September 17

12:00 - 1:30 (MT)

Live at the Lincoln Auditorium in the State Capitol Building or watch virtually by livestream

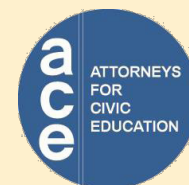

Access the registration at idaholawfoundation.org or from the QR code below

For questions contact Carey Shoufler at the Idaho Law Foundation at cshoufler@isb.idaho.gov

SPONSORS

Point your phone's camera or QR reader at the QR code. Tap the link that appears to connect to the Constitution Day Registration Form.