

2016 COURTROOM ARTIST CONTEST INFORMATION

About the Courtroom Artist Contest

The Courtroom Artist Contest is open to students in grades 9 to 12, to allow artistically talented students the opportunity to participate in the mock trial program. Artists observe trials and submit sketches that depict actual courtroom scenes. Participants can be part of a team or enter on their own. The top six finishers from regional contests will be invited to participate in the state mock trial competition.

Participation

- ✓ Registering with a mock trial team: Each mock trial team may register one courtroom artist per team (up to three courtroom artists per school). A team does not have to have a named artist at the time of registration, but when the team submits their roster, they must list the artist. An artist who participates with a team will still compete solely on their own efforts and will NOT be considered as part of their school's team in terms of advancing or not advancing to the state competition.
- ✓ Registering separate from a mock trial team: Up to three students may compete from any junior high (9th grade only) or high school, even if the school does not have a mock trial team.
- ✓ Advancement to the state competition: Six artists will advance to the state competition. Students who qualify through the regional competitions in Lewiston and Blackfoot will travel with the teams who qualify from those regions to the state competition. The Idaho Law Foundation will cover the lodging for the artist and (for artists who are not part of a mock trial team only) a chaperone.

Procedures and Rules

- ✓ Students from schools who do not have a mock trial team must complete and submit the entry form with the entry fee. Artists who are competing as part of mock trial team DO NOT need to submit a separate entry form, unless they are registering before or after their team has submitted their competition registration form.
- ✓ Up to three students per school from schools that do not have a mock trial team may enter the Courtroom Artist Contest by filling out and submitting the entry form and fee.
- ✓ Once submitted, students will receive a confirmation of their entry along with a Code of Ethical Conduct Form and a permission slip authorizing the reproduction and publication of their work that must be signed and returned prior to the date of the regional competition in which they choose to participate.
- ✓ All submissions become the property of the Idaho Law Foundation and may be used for any purposes deemed appropriate, including, but not limited to reproduction and dissemination.
- ✓ Artists must supply their own materials. As it is not likely that artists will have a hard surface to draw on, it's suggested they carry a clip board or hard backed sketch pad.

- ✓ On the day of the competition, artists will check in with mock trial staff and receive an artist's badge that they must wear during the day.
- ✓ Submitted drawings must be on 11" x 17" paper, drawn in a horizontal format. Artists may use any dry medium (e.g., pencils, charcoals, color pencils, pastels), but if using charcoals or pastels, some type of spray sealer to reduce smudging must be used.
- ✓ Sketches must depict an actual courtroom scene observed during a trial. Artists may make as many draft sketches as they wish, but may only submit one sketch.
- ✓ Because pictures may be reproduced, they need to have a strong enough line and shading value to be seen clearly once scanned.
- ✓ On competition days, artists will create sketches during the first two rounds of competition at regionals and, for those who move on to state, during the first rounds of each of the two quarter final evenings.
- ✓ Artists may be randomly assigned to courtrooms and, for those artists competing with a team, may or may not be with their teams during competition rounds.
- ✓ At the beginning of each round, artists will introduce themselves to the court and then seat themselves in the jury box or the front row of the gallery.
- ✓ Once seated, artists may not have contact with anyone else. Artists must create their drawings completely independently.
- ✓ During the final round of competition artists will be in designated rooms where they can complete their drawings.
- ✓ Artists must place a filled out entry label, provided by mock trial staff, on the back of the submitted work of art. Artists must not sign the front of their entries or the entry will become ineligible.
- ✓ Prior to leaving the competition, artists must turn in their work to designated mock trial staff.
- ✓ Entries will be judged on accuracy of proportion, realism, authenticity with regard to traditional courtroom sketching, figure/ground relationship, and use of contrast.
- ✓ Winning drawings will be displayed at the offices of the Idaho Law Foundation and reproduced for inclusion in the State Bar's magazine, The Advocate. Press releases with results will also be sent to local media and statewide media.
