Attorney helps Paul Bunyan Days every year

When it comes to Labor Day Weekend in St. Maries, Idaho, there is only one thing on everyone's mind. Yep! It's Paul Bunyan Days! Among the screaming chainsaw races, family fun-runs, and festivities, you might recognize a member of the bar – Peter Hutchinson. He has long supported and helped the Paul Bunyan Days Committee.

According to its website, the annual event includes a “carnival in city park, a Junior Olympic skills competition, logging events, a quilt show, a 5K fun run, pool events, a parade along Main Avenue and a stunning fireworks display that fills an Idaho sky.”

The event is a mainstay for rural north Idaho and part of what makes the community what it is.

Mr. Hutchinson also lends a hand at the Benewah County Humane Society.

The Idaho State Bar is engaged a campaign to raise general awareness of the good deeds and admirable qualities of Idaho attorneys. For more information, or to share your community service story, contact ISB Communications Director Dan Black at dblack@isb.idaho.gov
