

David Leroy stands in his office with an original brief written by Abraham Lincoln before he was elected president. Lincoln was a general practice attorney in Illinois before going into politics.

February 26, 2016

Keeping Lincoln's Flame Burning Bright

David Leroy continues to give his time and treasure to help sustain the arts, cultural, education, political, and professional organizations in Idaho. His special interest in Abraham Lincoln is well known across Idaho and especially among Lincoln scholars and history buffs. Specifically, he has given extensively to the Lincoln Legacy Exhibit, and the Idaho Historical Society.

The Boise attorney gives 5 to 10 hours of service each month to a variety of arts, cultural, educational and political organizations.

Mr. Leroy, a former Idaho Attorney General and former Lt. Governor, donated to more than five organizations in 2015, and has long been a principal benefactor for various historical efforts. He has also served as a mentor, teacher and has delighted history enthusiasts at educational events.

The Idaho State Bar is conducting a campaign to raise general awareness of the good deeds and admirable qualities of Idaho attorneys. For more information, or to share your community service story, contact ISB Communications Director Dan Black at dblack@isb.idaho.gov