

Sixth District Lawyers Recognized for Great Works

August 18, 2015

SUN VALLEY – Several Central Idaho attorneys were honored by their colleagues at the Annual Meeting of the Idaho State Bar in Sun Valley. They were recognized for their contributions to the community, to the cause of justice and for their accomplishments in the legal profession. The list below includes basic information of several outstanding Idaho attorneys. For more information, contact the attorney directly, or Idaho State Bar Communications Director Dan Black at dblack@isb.idaho.gov or (208) 955-8866.

Reed Larsen, Pocatello, was honored with the Idaho State Bar Professionalism Award for his contribution to the profession and for his devotion to the legal needs of his clients. He practices general litigation, defense, injury and liability. He was honored in 2009 with the ISB Service Award and he served on the Access to Justice Idaho Committee and the Judicial Fairness Committee. He has also served as an ISB Commissioner, including one year as President.

The Idaho State Bar also passed the gavel to its newest commissioner, Kent A. Higgins, who works at Merrill & Merrill in Pocatello. He is a former state legislator, former Sixth District Bar Association President, a member of Pocatello Rotary Club, Chairman of BYU and J. Reuben Clark Alumni Associations and a member of the BYU-I President’s Advisory Council.

The Idaho State Bar recognized the service of Hon. David L. Evans as Sixth Judicial District Judge. He retired earlier this year.
