Name: Josh Johnson, Senior Conservation Associate, Idaho Conservation League

Bio: Josh Johnson is a Senior Conservation Associate with the Idaho Conservation League. His work portfolio includes public lands, mining, air and water quality, and efforts to clean up agricultural pollution in the Snake River. Josh uses his technical background in geology, experience in environmental education, and love for the outdoors to protect those very things that make Idaho a special place to live.

Josh earned a B.A. in geology at Middlebury College and a M.S. in geology at the University of Colorado. He also worked as an interpretive park ranger in the Tetons and a mentor naturalist at the Aspen Center for Environmental Studies prior to joining ICL’s Ketchum office staff in 2017. Josh’s favorite hobby, skiing, has turned into an ongoing streak of skiing every month of the year (100 months and counting!). Josh’s favorite place in Idaho? Castle Peak.”
