

Fourth Judicial District Pro Bono Committee Presents:

PRO BONO JAM SESSION

Defending Tenant's Rights: Habitability & Security Deposits

Latonia Haney Keith & Josh Taylor
Concordia University School of Law

Associate Dean of Academics Latonia Haney Keith and Adjunct Professor Josh Taylor collectively run and manage Concordia Law's Housing Clinic, through which students represent individuals and families facing eviction or potential homelessness, impacted by foreclosure, living in uninhabitable conditions, and/or dealing with other stressful landlord/tenant issues that destabilize families and place the security of their housing at risk. During this session, Dean Haney Keith and Professor Taylor will focus on how to represent clients who need to file a civil litigation matter against their landlord to return their security deposit as required by law or to maintain the property in a manner that protects the tenant's health and safety. If you are interested in learning more about providing pro bono assistance to individuals facing these issues, please come to this free CLE with hosted lunch.

Lunch will be provided courtesy of Concordia University School of Law.
